

Predicts Fewer Strikes

Labor Secretary Believes, However, Some Proposals Will Bring 'Chaos-Strife'

WASHINGTON, March 11.—(AP)—Secretary of Labor Schwelbach today protested against any recognition of the Communist party in this country and its right to elect public officials.

He told the House Labor committee that firing Communists from positions of leadership in unions "doesn't go far enough."

"Why should we recognize the Communist party in the United States?" Schwelbach asked. "Why should we be able to elect people to public office, and theoretically, elect members of Congress?"

The secretary appeared to discuss an assortment of bills to change the labor laws. He predicted that strikes will be "drastically curbed" this year but said some of the proposals before the committee might promote industrial "chaos and strife" instead.

"What's wrong with giving employers the right to fire Communists or subversive individuals," Rep. Landis (R-Ind) remarked.

Agrees Theoretically

"Theoretically," Schwelbach said, "I agree with you entirely."

He recited difficulties he said the government has in pinning down Communist charges against its own workers, even when the FBI presents a case to the department involved.

He said six people have been discharged by the Labor Department, but that it is almost impossible to learn when a man is a Communist.

"One of the first things a Communist learns," he said, "is to deny he is one. Now when the U. S. government can't find out—"

The secretary said he doesn't see why unions should be singled out to expel Communists when it is possible for the party to elect members to Congress.

1944 Candidates

(Records show that the Communist party in the 1944 election had two candidates for the United States Senate—in Indiana and Virginia; seven candidates for the House of Representatives—four in New Jersey, two in Michigan and one in Connecticut; and one for governor in New Jersey.)

When Landis asked Schwelbach's views on mass picketing, the secretary said he has "no sympathy" with it. He said he has stayed more of it than possibly anybody in the United States by refusing to send mediators into a plant where mass picketing was in effect.

"But we have no authority to stop it," he said. "I wish local authorities would have a little bit of authority to do it."

Optimist Club Has Girl Scout Program

The Optimist club met today noon at the Bothwell hotel with Dr. Ben Klein, president, presiding.

The meeting was devoted primarily to a program on the Girl Scouts who are this week observing their thirty-fifth anniversary. Mrs. C. A. Wright, camp chairman of the Sedalia Girl Scouts in Sedalia, spoke of the worthwhile work carried on here in that organization. Mrs. Wright stated that there are 615 registered Girl Scouts in this city and forty-six registered troops. She told of their various activities and programs. There are 125 adults in Girl Scout work, she stated.

An interesting film, in colors, of Girl Scouts and their activities was shown by Howard Roberts.

Several Visitors

Mrs. Wright and Mr. Roberts were introduced by the Rev. Herman Janssen, program chairman.

Visitors at the meeting were Fred M. Fulkerson, guest of Dr. T. W. Bast; R. W. Edler, guest of Dr. Ben Klein; and Rev. J. Fred King, guest of H. J. Hausa.

Lee Brandt announced that the speaker at next week's meeting will be Dr. Charles Andreas Bard, of Kansas City.

Detained for Red Riding Hood Murder

MANCHESTER, England, March 11.—(AP)—Sixteen-year-old Joseph Gibson was sentenced today at Manchester Assizes to be detained "during the king's pleasure" for the "Red Riding Hood murder" of a 10-year-old girl.

The court said the sentence was the only one permitted under the law for a murder defendant under the age of 18. Gibson had pleaded guilty to the strangulation of Sheila Gowrie in an alley behind her home on January 22, while the child was on an errand to her grandmother's house.

Remembered Sedalia in Her Will

The late Dr. and Mrs. Bransford Lewis, who lived in St. Louis, are shown above on one of their vacation trips to their lodge in the Ozarks. Mrs. Lewis was the former Miss Jennie Jaynes, daughter of pioneer Sedalians, who lived in a large home on Broadway and Ohio, the house centering the entire block from Ohio to Osage and from Broadway to Ninth street. She recently died in St. Louis and in her will she suggested to trustees named they use part of her estate for a recreational place for Sedalians. E. M. Stafford, of this city, is the first of three trustees named. Another is A. P. Green, of Mexico, a former Sedalian.

Women in Red Cross Drive Go Over Quota

Brush Difficulties Aside to Make Calls in Residential Area

The women's division of the fund raising campaign of the American Red Cross in Sedalia went on record as being the first division to reach its quota in the current drive. The women exceeded their quota of $2,040 by $127. Thus far, $5,872.50 of the total quota of $11,880 has been collected.

The city was divided into several divisions by the Red Cross, allotting the residential districts to the women. They were originally given from March 3 to 5 to complete their division but due to adverse conditions such as the weather the collecting was not finished until the eighth.

Mrs. Henry Menefee Leader

Mrs. Henry Menefee was placed in charge of the women's division and undertook the task of directing their share of the drive. Mrs. Menefee divided the residential sections of the city into 39 districts and appointed a captain from the volunteer workers for each district. The captains, in turn, solicited the assistance of as many workers as were needed in their districts.

The success of the women in reaching their goal first is considered admirable. In comparison with the other divisions they were beset with many difficulties. Divisions such as the utilities and other businesses had only a small number of contacts to make and from each received a fairly large contribution, while on the other hand, in the residential districts there were a greater number of people to contact and the contributions were smaller than those solicited in the business district. In spite of these facts combined with bad weather, the women did a remarkable job.

Collect Twenty Tons of Paper

Twenty tons of papers gathered by Boy Scouts, leaders and friends Sunday afternoon which brought the organization the amount of their goal, $250.00. All of the money will be used for boats and other improvements at Lake Tebo.

Enthusiasm was high among the boys with more than a hundred turning out to help. The audit help also came in greater numbers than ever before, with many trucks being demanded for service. There was good cooperation among the people of the city, too, with paper lined in piles in front of homes and some citizens, who had so much paper in their basements that they couldn't move it called and asked if they wanted to take it of the basements. Arrangements were immediately made to take care of such places.

Another paper drive is planned for the first part of May.

Request Fewer Visits To K. C. Hospitals

KANSAS CITY, March 11.—(AP)—An increase in the influenza outbreak here has led Dr. Hugh L. Dwyer, city director of health, to request fewer visits to patients in hospitals. Persons with colds should not visit friends or relatives in hospitals at all, he said.

Illness among school children has not increased over last week, school authorities said, but more teachers are sick.

Smith-Cotton Pupils to Tulsa

Five Smith-Cotton high school pupils have been chosen to play in the All Southwest ninety piece orchestra at the All Southwest Music Supervisors conference in Tulsa, Okla., beginning Wednesday through Saturday. They are Patricia Opp, flute; Mary Frances Burlingame, violin; Vivian McAtee, viola; Anita Isgur, bass; Ira K. Espe, Jr., bassoon.

Revenue Collector's Office Open at Noon

Effective Wednesday and through Saturday the office of the Internal Revenue Collector, in the postoffice building will be open through the noon hour to accommodate those who cannot come at any other time.

The office is therefore open from 8:15 a. m. until 5:00 p. m. including the noon hour.

Saturday, March 15, is the deadline for filing the federal income tax returns.

Senate Passes Bill to Raise C. of A. Salary

Measure Makes Term Concurrent With Governorship

JEFFERSON CITY, March 11.—(AP)—A bill to raise the salary of the state commissioner of agriculture from $3,000 to $7,500 a year was passed by the Missouri senate today, 18 to 7, and sent to the House.

Sen. L. D. Joslyn (D) of Charleston defied Senate tradition by pressing for a vote despite a request from Sen. William M. Quinn (D) of Maywood for further delay. Quinn said he had asked for an opinion from the Attorney General.

Joslyn replied that the question of whether the salary increase should apply to Tom R. Douglass, the present commissioner, could not affect the constitutionality of the bill and he insisted on a vote.

Change Time of Term

The bill would make the commissioner's term concurrent with the governor's instead of for a flat four years. Sen. Emory W. Allison (D) of Rolla suggested that provision might enable the governor to reappoint Douglas under the new bill and enable him to enjoy the higher salary.

A new bill introduced by Senator John W. Noble (D) of Kennett would permit the state purchasing agent to destroy old records after five years.

Chicago Wants Convention

CHICAGO, March 11.—(AP)—A bid by Chicago for Republican party's 1948 national convention has won the approval of a special committee of the GOP national committee with recommendation of its selection to be made to the full committee next month. Three other cities—Detroit, Philadelphia and Atlantic City—also submitted bids.

The special committee yesterday voted to recommend that the convention meet in Chicago the week of June 21, provided the city "makes adequate financial arrangements." Carroll Reece, GOP national chairman, said he had "no doubt Chicago would raise the money" for the convention, which he estimated at about $100,000.

In event Chicago does not make the necessary arrangements, the subcommittee's report said Philadelphia was the second choice. G. Mason Owlett, national committee member from Pennsylvania, told the group Philadelphia was prepared to offer a certified check for $100,000 and free use of convention hall.

Overcome By Fumes

KANSAS CITY, March 11.—(AP)—Five persons, overcome by carbon monoxide fumes at the home of William A. McDonnell yesterday, were recovering today. Relatives, summoned by McDonnell before he succumbed, found the five unconscious.

Governor Hits At Alleged Bookmakers

This Time in Kansas City: Requests Phone Service Discontinued

JEFFERSON CITY, March 11.—(AP)—District Judge John F. Cook issued a temporary restraining order today under which telephone service was restored to two Kansas City firms allegedly furnishing racing wire information.

Judge Cook issued the order at request of counsel for Simon Partnow, owner of the two firms.

The Southwestern Bell Telephone company had cut off service at 10:30 a. m. in compliance with an order of Gov. Phil M. Donnelly.

KANSAS CITY, March 11.

—(P)—Complying with the order of Governor Phil M. Donnelly, the Southwestern Bell Telephone company cut off telephone service at 10:30 a. m. today to two Kansas City firms allegedly furnishing racing wire information.

Following the pattern set at St. Louis a month ago, the governor and attorney general J. E. Taylor yesterday requested the Southwestern Bell Telephone company to stop furnishing private telephone service between two Kansas City firms and their customers.

Donnelly and Taylor said the firms—the Harmony Publishing company and the Mo-Kan Publishing company—"are engaged in the unlawful activity of receiving, recording and registering bets on horses."

A Southwestern Bell official said his company "would comply" with the governor's request. The official, who withheld his name, did not specify when the wire service would be cut off. He said "certain details" would have to "be ascertained" today.

Phone Service Suspended

At St. Louis, the telephone company reported the day after it received the governor's request on Feb. 5 that phone service had been suspended for the Pioneer News Service, the company named there.

The only comment forthcoming immediately from city officials here was given by Paul Hamilton, president of the police board, who said the police department had conducted an investigation at the governor's request.

"We learned," said Hamilton, "that there were 11 wires running out of the Columbia Bank building (location of the Harmony Publishing company) to such places as Lawrence, Kas., and I think, to St. Joseph, Mo., Oklahoma and some other locations outside the city—none of them to point inside the city."

No Comment Available

Henry Johnson, who was made chief of the Kansas City police department in a recent shakeup following a visit by the governor, was not available for comment.

Eight men were arrested Saturday by police who charged they heard races being called as the men stood outside a door in a downtown building.

The governor's request to the telephone company was made in a long telegram.

No Previous Talk

Furnishing bookmakers with information, the telegram said, "has the natural tendency of drawing vicious and criminal elements from all over the country to Kansas City, Mo., and has resulted in endangering the public peace and safety of the citizens."

and in the creating of a public nuisance in violation of the laws of this state."

The governor said he had not talked with Kansas City police about his action.

His investigation, the governor said, had not shown whether there was any connection between race news companies in Kansas City and St. Louis.

Bill to Committee

OKLAHOMA CITY, March 11.—(AP)—A bill passed by the Oklahoma house of representatives making it a penitentiary offense to buy, as well as sell whisky in dry Oklahoma, has been referred to the prohibition committee of the senate and there, said senate leaders, it will stay.

Mysterious Earth Shock

BARBERTON, O., March 11.—(AP)—This industrial city of 30,000 was swayed by a mystery earth shock last night, which threw residents from their chairs and rattled glassware on household shelves.

No one was reported injured and no damage was discovered. Origin of the tremor, which lasted several seconds and was felt in widely separated areas of the city, was undetermined.

A seismologist at San Diego, Cal., said his recorder registered a "very pronounced" disturbance at the approximate time of the local shock, but was unable to locate it. No disturbances were registered by seismographs at several universities located in various parts of the country.

Contract for School Work to J. B. Hancock

Low Bidder on Work at Whittier And Jefferson

The Sedalia board of education, in session Monday night, awarded the contract for concreting the stairways and corridors of Whittier and Jefferson schools to J. B. Hancock, contractor, the low bidder. His bid was $26,276, less than the estimate of the architect and board of education at the time the bond issue was voted by Sedalians about a year ago. Their estimate was $30,000.

Other bidders on the work for the two schools were: Brunson Construction Co., St. Louis; Dean Construction Co., Cramer and Schrader Construction Co., and E. L. Sievers, contractor, all of Sedalia.

Work will begin immediately under the close of the school term.

The board has also increased the tuition for non-residents of the Sedalia school district from $75 to $150 for high school students, from $50 to $108 for the elementary schools.

With reference to the high school students the individual student does not pay, $50 of the amount is paid by the state, the remainder of the amount by the district from which the student comes. This does not apply to the elementary schools.

Brick Building Collapses In Cincinnati

At Least Four Missing; Half Dozen Reported Injured

CINCINNATI, March 11.—(AP)—At least four persons were reported missing in the collapse of a five story brick building in the bottom district of Cincinnati today, police reported.

Half dozen persons were reported injured.

Sam Ostrov, head of the Western Fixture and Bar Supply Co., was trapped in the basement and pinned by debris. He was able to tell firemen that another man was near him and alive.

A search was being made for Wallie Teskin, stockkeeper, Ray Bell and Al Rudd, of Covington, Ky., after fellow workers said they were missing.

Fire Chief Barney J. Houston instructed firemen to start tunneling through the elevator shaft after he was told that three men were riding in the elevator when the structure crashed.

Before the building fell, escaping water had undermined a 40-foot section of Pearl street and flooded the basement of the building.

Several men were said to have been working in the flooded basement of the supply company at the time of the collapse.

Court Reporter No Official

JEFFERSON CITY, March 11.—(P)—The Missouri Supreme Court ruled yesterday that Bernice Scobee of Hannibal, court reporter for the tenth judicial circuit, is not technically a public official, therefore is entitled to a salary of $3,100 a year.

The legislature increased court reporter's compensation last year from $2,500 to $3,100 but Circuit Judge Roy B. Meriwether declined to certify Miss Scobee for the new rate on the grounds it would violate a constitutional provision barring increases during an official's term of office.

By law, the court held, a reporter "is a sworn officer of the court but this designation alone is insufficient to make him a public officer." It directed Judge Meriwether to certify Miss Scobee for the increased salary.

L. M. Monsees Dies At Home In Smithton

Funeral Services Will be Held There On Wednesday

Louis M. Monsees, aged 88 years, nationally known breeder of jacks and jennets, died at 6:30 o'clock Monday evening at his home in Smithton. With his sons he owned and operated Limestone Valley Farm near Smithton for many years.

Famous breeder of jacks and jennets at Smithton for many years died Monday.

Mr. Monsees retired from active participation in operation of the farm about twelve years ago. Since that time he had resided in Smithton, although giving attention and helpfulness in the jacks and jennets raising and sales, which in many instances in years gone by brought fabulous prices.

Annual sales at the farm were attended by buyers from all parts of the country and the fame of his breeding farm and stables spread far and wide.

In fairs and expositions his exhibits ranked at the top and in 1915 at the world's fair at San Francisco his entries took thirty-three first prizes out of thirty-six classes, and all the champions but one.

Mr. Monsees was a kindly man with an acquaintance that was very extensive.

An Unusual Start

His career as a breeder of blooded stock started in a most unusual way when as a boy in 1870 he started with his first jack, "Toby." A covered wagon with a jack tagging along behind was moving westward across the state and the driver of the team of horses pulling the wagon was asked: "What'll you take for that jack?" A deal was made by which the then young Mr. Monsees, later called "Colonel" Monsees, purchased the animal for two good pocket knives, a small pistol that would shoot, and four dollars in cash.

From that time on jacks, jennets and mules were his chief interest in a strictly business sense.

Brought High Prices

His sales and auctions in later years brought him prices for offerings of from $500 to $3,000 each and his best sale was to J. C. Penney who purchased a jack to place on his farm at Hamilton, Mo. It was Limestone Valley Gold-dust for $5,000. "Limestone Mammoth" and "Orphan Boy" were famous among jacks at the farm but after the first world war the jacks business began to recede.

Mr. Monsees was a native born citizen of Pettis county being born November 20, 1858 the son of John H. and Lucinda Monsees, who were pioneer settlers in Pettis county. His father came to the United States from Germany in 1836.

In 1880 Mr. Monsees was married to Miss Rickey Kastens who (Please Turn To Page 4 Col. 3)

STUTTGART, Germany, March 11.—(AP)—The German Council of States of the U. S.-occupied zone approved today a law which will restore up to $125,000,000 worth of properties to persons whose possessions were confiscated during the Nazi regime.

The measure required a full year to draft and must have final approval of the United States military government before it is promulgated.

The Germans announced they believed the law should be extended throughout Germany and that it did not leave enough discretion to restitution courts.

More than 15,000 Jews in the American zone of Germany, who now see strangers running their businesses, will benefit. So will hundreds of refugees who fled Hitler Germany to escape racial, religious and political terrorism.

Pennsylvania Men Coming to Sedalia Plant

Taking Key Positions In Pittsburgh-Corning Factory

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Durham, 621 West Seventh street, received a letter recently from their son Howard Durham containing a clipping from a Port Allegany, Pa., newspaper concerning the local Pittsburgh-Corning glass factory.

Durham, who is receiving training at the Port Allegany factory, is mentioned in the article as ceramic engineer in charge of laboratory and quality control.

The clipping follows: "Eighteen Port Allegany men will leave soon to accept key positions in the new Pittsburgh-Corning plant at Sedalia, Missouri. The Sedalia plant will be a duplicate of the Port Allegany factory and will manufacture glass blocks and foamlglass for the western territory of the company."

"Two of the men, Otis Wiley who will be factory manager and Carlton Kelly in the accounting department, have already moved to Sedalia. Mr. Wiley is at Port Allegany this week to make preliminary arrangements for moving the men. No definite date has been set for the men to move, but it will be soon. The construction of the buildings in Sedalia is making good progress and it is expected that the plant will be in operation early in May. The company is arranging for homes for the families who are moving to Sedalia."

"Following is a list of the men who are to go to the new plant: Factory manager Otis W. Wiley. Production manager Louis Marchinette."

Foremen: Albert T. Racunas, Irvin Davis, Joseph Cole and William Mitchell.

"Machine Operators: Albert Newland, Harold Evans, Ralph Shepard, James Curtis."

"In charge of Tank and Batch Department: Charles Aiden, ceramic engineer."

"In charge of Machine Shop and Mold Room: Homer Frankenhof."

"In charge of Inspection and Finishing Department: Richard Becker."

"In charge of Shipping Department: Gordon Fitch."

"Accounting Department: Carlton Kelly."

"In charge of Laboratory and quality control: Howard Durham, ceramic engineer. Mr. Durham is an original Sedalia man and has been receiving training at the local plant."

"Draftsman: Ray Need."

"Machine shop: Morris Roseboom."

"Practically all of the positions being taken by the local men will be advancements over the positions they are holding at the Port Allegany plant, and will provide opportunities for further advancement."

March 12 is the Thirty-fifth Anniversary of Girl Scouting

March 12 will be a big day in the lives of Sedalia's Girl Scouts, who will join with more than a million members of their organization throughout the nation to celebrate the thirty-fifth birthday of Girl Scouting.

"Better Citizens Build a Better World" is the anniversary slogan of the Girl Scouts, and will provide the theme for many of the events, both national and local, that will be held in honor of the Girl Scout birthday.

Mrs. D. Kelly Scruton, commissioner, stated that the first Girl Scout troop was organized in Savannah, Georgia, on March 12, 1912, by the late Juliette Gordon Low, who had become deeply interested in it through her friendship with Lord Robert Baden-Powell, originator of the Scouting movement for both boys and girls. The idea of Girl Scouting caught on so quickly, she said that before the end of 1912 troops were springing up in various parts of the country. Today, thirty-five years later, Girl Scouting is carried on in 8,300 communities with a total membership of 1,218,000.

Girl Scouting was organized in Sedalia 24 years ago, according to Mrs. Scruton, and the latest statistics show a membership of over 700. She pointed out the work of the organization is carried on almost entirely by volunteers.

"The women (and men, too), who have helped the Girl Scouts reach their present status as the largest organization for girls in the world are slated for special honors during the anniversary year," Mrs. Scruton said. "We are deeply grateful to them for their interest and pay tribute to them at this time."

She continued by voicing the hope of the organization that the anniversary celebration will attract the attention of many more adults and bring them to a greater realization of what youth service through Girl Scouting is all about.

"Even though the Girl Scout movement is a 'success' story at the end of thirty-five years, we cannot feel that we can rest on our laurels while there are still so many girls asking to join but who are left on waiting lists because there aren't enough volunteer leaders to go around. We are hoping that at least twenty-five will enroll in Girl Scouting as a birthday present to the organization. Our goal for Girl Scouting in Sedalia in the anniversary year is 'enough leaders and troops to take in all the girls who want to join.'"

Chinese Question An Issue

Marshall Expected To Reject Russian Proposal That it Be on the Agenda

MOSCOW, March 11.—(P)—The second session of the foreign ministers' conference adjourned at 7:20 p. m. (10:20 a. m. Central standard time).

MOSCOW, March 11.—(P)—The United States, France and Britain today blocked, at least temporarily, Soviet Russia's proposal to place discussion of China on the agenda of the four-power council of foreign ministers.

A conference spokesman said the three western powers pressed, during a session of more than three hours, and finally won the point that nothing should be done concerning the Soviet proposal without China being represented here.

By John M. Hightower

MOSCOW, March 11.—(P)—The second session of the four-power foreign ministers' conference opened late today with the Russian proposal that the Chinese question be placed on the agenda as a prospective point of issue.

Authoritative sources said U. S. Secretary of State George C. Marshall would reject the Russian proposal, advanced yesterday by Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, unless Chinese representatives were called to the conference.

Marshall, who was the first of the four ministers to arrive for the first meeting yesterday at the house of the Soviet aviation industry, also was the first to arrive today for the opening at 4

Anything Can Happen in NAIB Tourney

Several Records of Previous Tourneys Have Been Broken

By Skipper Patrick

KANSAS CITY, March 11.—(AP)—Anything that might happen in the remaining five days of competition in the national intercollegiate basketball tournament (N. A. I. B.) likely will be an anticlimax to the record breaking proceedings of the first eight games.

With several of the better scoring teams yet to make their debuts, here's the tournament record that went by the boards during yesterday's opening card:

Nate DeLong, 6-foot 5-inch Freshman center of Wisconsin State Teachers, River Falls, plunked in 22 field goals and 12 free throws for 56 points, breaking the N. A. I. B. record of 38 points set by Pete Foto of George Peppard College in 1942.

Fly 800 Miles To Get Wolf And Bounty

FULTON, Mo., March 11.—(AP)—Two Kansas aerial hunters flew 800 miles to cash in on Callaway county's attractive wolf bounty.

The pair, Woody Wilson and Les Peterson, a wolf from 150 feet up, landed and retrieved the carcass. Then they flew to Fulton where they collected the $30 bounty—enough to pay the expenses of the trip.

mark in beating Wisconsin State, DeLong and all, 113 to 80.

The combined Marshall-Wisconsin State score, 193 points, topped any single game scoring in the previous eight tournaments.

The old tournament game record of 128 points—Indiana State 83, Stevens Point, Wis., 45 in 1942—was beaten in four of the eight games yesterday.

All told, a grand total of 1014 points was scored in the first eight games, an average of 127 points per game or 63 1/2 points per team.

Point making wasn't limited to the Marshall-River Falls contest, however. Cliff McNeely, the little Texas Wesleyan forward, brought his total for 31 games to 710 points as he scored 31 points in leading his team to an 84-50 victory over Linfield College of McMinnville, Ore.

Mickey Marty, of Loras College, Dubuque, Iowa, the third highest scorer in the nation, was also a point-maker, but his team dropped a 71-63 decision to Minnesota State Teachers of Mankato. Hank Epp of the Minnesota aggregation, got 28 points.

The defending champion Southern Illinois Normal Macons of Carbondale, bowed out of the tournament as Dakota Wesleyan, Mitchell, S. D., handed them a 44-to-39 licking in one of the better played games of the day. Wesleyan, led by Bruce Canasty, who counted 16 points, had to overcome a 6-point halftime deficit.

The Emporia State Hornets of Emporia, Kas., also showed team strength in topping Lawrence Tech of Detroit 78 to 54.

Emporia started slowly, tied the score at the five-minute mark and pushed ahead 35-31 at the half. Wilbur Reeser, forward, and Hal McVey, center, scored 15 and 13 points respectively, for the winners.

In other opening day games, the University of Houston (Tex.) defeated Montana State 60 to 38 on a last-second shot by Pete Selay, Arizona State beat Youngstown (Ohio) college 49 to 45, and Whittier (Calif.) college outscored Northwestern College of Louisiana 70 to 56.

Top billing on today's schedule of eight first-round games went to Loyola University of Baltimore, whose lineup boasted the nation's second high scorer in Jim Lacy. Lacy and company was scheduled to meet Hastings college of Durant, Okla., another high scoring outfit.

In another match Willie Mosconi of Kansas City, Mo., (2-3) goes against Irving Crane of Livonia, N. Y. (1-4).

Christy vs. O'Connor in Main Event

Kennedy vs. Bartush In Special Event; Lou Spandle Referee

Main Event
Vic Christy vs. Donnie O'Connor

2 falls out of 3—90-minute time limit.

Semi-Windup
Ras Samara vs. Marvin Jones

2 falls out of 3—45-minute time limit.

Special Event
Jack Kennedy vs. Bill Bartush
Dallas, Tex. vs. Chicago, Ill.
1 fall with a 30-minute time limit.

Time: 8:30 p. m. Tuesday.
Place: National Guard Armory.

Wrestlers tonight will be under a referee, more strict and with more experience than any who has appeared here before, with Lou Spandle of Kansas City, Kansas. Referee Spandle, agreed to come to Sedalia to tryout before the local critics, and if possible his services will be sought for each Tuesday night.

No doubt he will get a real initiation in the feature event on the card in which Vic Christy of Van Nuys, California, will meet Donnie O'Connor, of Boston, Mass. Christy and O'Connor, in the ring are not too friendly over what occurred in their past two team matches.

The wrestling shows the past two or three weeks have gotten out of hand of the referees, and Gus Karras, matchmaker for Pettis County Post No. 16, American Legion, sponsors of the shows, has endeavored to make a change. He went so far, last week, as a judge to order a reversal of the team match and give Christy and George Becker the decision over Orville Brown and O'Connor, something of a distaste to O'Connor.

The semi-windup brings together Jack Johnson "The Black Panther" of Detroit, Mich., and Marvin Jones, the "rougher deluxe" of Amarillo, Texas. Jones, a stablemate of Roy Graham, has proven his ability to rough it up and Johnson can expect plenty of action from Texas.

Opening the card tonight will be a special event between "Wild Bill" Bartush of Chicago, Ill., and Jack Kennedy of Dallas, Texas. This match should have a lot of action and give Referee Spandle another opportunity to show his wares.

Briefs From the Training Camps

LAKELAND, Fla., March 11.—(AP)—Without batting an eye Manager Steve O'Neill of the Detroit Tigers declared that his young George Kell, from Swifton, Ark., was the greatest third baseman he has ever seen.

"I've seen some pretty good ones in my time, too," Steve pointed out. "Back to Buck Weaver. There might have been as good a club as there was in the American league the last month.

"The kid — he's only 24 — not only hit .322 for us, but he fielded that corner like I never saw it fielded before, and he played the game like he loved it.

Other training camp notes: St. Petersburg, Fla. — "We have a young team and with this fine looking squad of recruits to pick from and to develop I don't see how we can be kept out of championship rating for several years."

That's St. Louis Cardinal owner Sam Breadon talking after his first look at the 1947 Redbird squad.

Breadon was particularly optimistic after righthander Murry Dickson ended his holdout siege and signed a contract after a brief conference with the Cardinals' boss man. Dickson, who hurled 15 victories against a loss of only six last season, was the last Redbird to come to terms.

St. Petersburg, Fla. — The New York Yankees' first and second squads join forces here today.

Tampa, Fla. — The Cincinnati Reds planned no special outfield shift for slugger Ted Williams in the Reds' exhibition with the Boston Red Sox today. "We'll play him just like any other good lefthanded pull hitter," said Johnny Neun, Redleg field boss.

Miami, Fla. — Manager Muddy Ruel put his St. Louis Browns through a strenuous three-hour drill yesterday, longest since the squad reached camp and gave all hands an extended bunting workout in an effort to eliminate one major weak point of last year's team.

Miss Roberta Robinson, daughter of Mrs. John Rittman, east of Knob Noster and Mr. Adolf D. Jarolim, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Jarolim of Wankomis, Okla., were married Monday afternoon March 3, at 4:30 o'clock, in Mission, Kansas by the Rev. Claude G. Large, pastor of the Country-side Christian church.

The bride wore a gray gaberdine suit with black and white accessories. Her corsage was of pink and white carnations. Her only ornament was a strand of pearls, gift of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Jarolim, the former Miss Robinson, was graduated from the Knob Noster high school in 1943 and attended C. M. S. C. in Warrensburg. She has been teaching first and second grades in Knob Noster the past two years and will continue teaching until the close of the school year.

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Thomas, 813 East Sixteenth street, were hosts at a party given in honor of their son "Bud," who was celebrating his eighteenth birthday, Sunday evening. A dinner was served to six guests.

Those present were: Joe Potts, Joann Schott, Jimmy Egbert, Margaret Liming, Beryl Evans, and "Bud" Thomas.

Mrs. Flora Washburn, 923 West Fourth street, entertained a group of relatives at a dinner Sunday, honoring the birthday anniversary of a number of the guests. Strader, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Strader and daughter Linda, Mr. and Mrs. Lionel G. Cooper, son Billy Don and daughter Carolyn Sue, all of Sedalia; Mr. and Mrs. Lee Strader and daughter Marilyn of Hughesville.

A delightful program was given Monday afternoon at the Sorosis meeting at the Heard Memorial Club House featuring a number of talented young girls of Sedalia, the "Singing Scouts" and members of the girls' physical education class of Smith-Cotton high school.

Mrs. P. Cecil Owen, Art and Drama chairman, introduced Mrs. C. A. Wright, camp chairman of the Sedalia Girl Scouts, who talked on the work of that organization. The Girl Scouts, she said, are this week observing their thirty-fifth anniversary. Mrs. Wright stated that there were one hundred nine adults working in the organization and camping is one of the activities.

In 1941 the organization secured a ninety-nine year lease on thirty-three acres of land south of Sedalia which is rich in natural beauty. Here they built, through the aid of a number of Sedalia people, a house, which is the center of their camping activities. Open house at the camp, she said, will be held on April 27.

A colored film was shown by Howard Roberts depicting a bus in which he took about fifty Girl Scouts to the camp. The film pictured the girls in their various activities around the camp. Mr. Roberts also had pictures of the Negro Girl Scouts taken at Hubbard park.

Mrs. Owen then introduced Mrs. A. R. Beach, director of the "Singing Scouts" who presented the following girls in a program. They were Dorothy Ann Reid, accompanist, Ruth Scott, Selma Bloess, Rosalie Chasoff, Ruth Ann Knight, Virginia Williams, Marjorie Liebel, Ann Renfrow, Dorothy and Mary Cowherd, Ray Carolyn and Dorothy Garrett, Olive Vincent, D'Ette Ferguson, Marva Lee Harbit, Beverly Haggard, Marjorie Glenn, Betty Sue Wells, Anna Lou Alcorn, Markie Walker, Betty Ellsworth and Donna Marie Robinson.

The girls sang two numbers in group one, "By the Land of the Sky Blue Water" by Cadman; "I Heard a Forest Praying" by DeRose and "Will You Remember" by Sigmund Romberg. The second group of numbers included "On Music's Wing" by Mendelssohn, "Carol of the Russian Child" from White Russia arranged by Treehorne. The last number was acappella and the last group was sung by memory having been presented in the contest on Saturday.

Mrs. Owen then introduced Miss Audrey Salzer, instructor of girls' physical education in the Smith-Cotton high school, who presented a group of dances. The first dance, a German couple dance was by Beverly Hand and Marjorie Redden. The second, The Ogdia Russian dance by DeAnn Rodgers and Joan Cummins. The third dance was Schupplatter Austrian dance or the shoe clapping dance by Delores Turner and Kathryn Lambirth.

The girls were in colorful costumes of the various countries from which the dances originated which added beauty to the dances. Mrs. D. S. Lamm, president, presided over the meeting.

Miss Helen Bowers announced the program for next Monday for Mrs. A. W. Klang, of the Civics department, who will be the program chairman. The speaker will be Dean R. Smiley, of Chicago, which program is sponsored by

Why freight rates are going up...

Since 1939, railroad employees have had three general pay raises totaling 52 1/2%, and the prices of fuel, materials and supplies have risen 61 1/2%.

But when the war ended in 1945, the railroads were still hauling freight at rates no higher, and in some cases lower, than when the war began.

Without increased revenues, railroads could not meet these costs and also provide improvements in equipment and facilities—improvements that are essential for the low-cost freight and passenger services which are necessary to America's high standard of living.

Under these circumstances—and almost a year after the last major wage increase—the Interstate Commerce Commission recently approved an average increase in freight rates of 17 1/2%.

Of all the price increases in America today, few have been so little and so late as that in the price of railroad transportation.

How important are healthy railroads to a prosperous country?

Only when the railroads are financially healthy can they provide the new equipment, improved road beds, and better terminal facilities needed for still better service to you.

The defense of the nation depends upon the continuance of the efficient transportation which served the nation so well in the last war.

The railroads are among the largest employers of labor. They buy over 100,000 different products. They pay big taxes—taxes which are spent not only for public schools, public health, and police and fire protection, but even for highways, airways, airports and inland waterways.

Railroads are America's lifeline—keeping goods flowing among the 48 states day and night in all weather.

They can continue to do this only if there is a reasonable balance between income and outgo. Like yourself, the railroads must make ends meet!

We are publishing this and other advertisements to talk with you at first hand about matters which are important to everybody.

IF STOMACH BALKS DUE TO GAS AND BLOAT

Help Get Food Digested to Relieve Yourself of This Nervous Distress

Do you feel all puffed-up and miserable after every meal, taste sour, bitter food? If so, here is how you may get blessed relief in helping your stomach do the job—it should be doing—in the digestion of its food.

Everytime food enters the stomach a vital gastric juice must flow normally to break-up certain food particles; else the food may ferment. Sour food, acid indigestion and gas frequently cause a morbid, touchy, fretful, peevish, nervous condition, loss of appetite, underweight, restless sleep, weakness.

To get real relief you must increase the flow of this vital gastric juice. Medical authorities, in independent laboratory tests on human stomachs, have positively proved that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in increasing this flow when it is too little or scanty due to a non-organic stomach disturbance. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps build-up non-organic, weak, watery blood in nutritional anemia—so with a good flow of this gastric digestive juice, plus rich red blood you should eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better.

Avoid punishing yourself with over-doses of soda and other alkalis to counteract gas and bloating when what you so dearly need is SSS Tonic to help you digest food for better strength and repair. Nations Must Surrender Some Rights

Pope Pius XII Tells Correspondents On Anniversary Eve

By Charles H. Gupit and John P. McKnight

(World Copyright, 1947, by the Associated Press)

VATICAN CITY, March 11.—(P)—On the eve of the eighth anniversary of his coronation, Pope Pius XII told the Associated Press today that nations must surrender some of their sovereign rights if a just and lasting peace is to be achieved.

The development of destructive atomic weapons, with the total war they threaten, should persuade the leaders of nations of their obligation to reach agreements insuring peace, he said.

In the last year—the first entire year of the pope's reign in which there was no declared warfare—there has been no marked improvement in the world's outlook for peace, he said.

The pontiff evidently was preoccupied over the prospects for the Moscow conference of foreign ministers, which opened yesterday. He nodded assent to comment that the circumstances of the conference's beginning did not augur well for solid achievements in the shaping of peace.

Received Correspondents

The frail, friendly pontiff, who 10 days ago celebrated his 71st birthday and the eighth anniversary of his election as pope, tomorrow will commemorate at the Sistine chapel of the Apostolic palace the anniversary of his ascension of the throne of St. Peter.

Today, quite simply, he received these correspondents in his red and gold library and talked with them freely on the problems facing the world and the church.

In the same library, at the same big uncluttered desk with its gold telephone convenient to his hand, he had received them just over a year ago, at the end of the brilliant consistories to create 32 new cardinals which some called the crowning event of his reign.

At that earlier audience, the pope showed the strain of consistory week and the ravages of a cold.

Feeling Much Better

Today, he was bright, cheerful, animated, obviously much better in health. His eyes sparkled behind their rimless spectacles. He smiled often. He spoke quickly, eagerly. He looked fit.

The ankle-twisted last week while strolling in the Vatican Gardens—he confessed he was reading as he walked—was entirely well, he said, even though he had resisted his physician's efforts to put him to bed and kept on with his 18-hour working day.

There was too much to be done for him to rest, the pope said.

Highest Price In Thirty Years

CHICAGO, March 11.—(P)—Wheat futures sold for the highest price in 30 years at the Board of Trade today, March wheat hitting $2.80 a bushel, before profit cashing reduced prices from the day's bid levels.

Trading in the wheat pit was broad and wide fluctuations were recorded, but traders in the grain were influenced by the need of feeding war-prostrated countries.

Corn and oats did not follow the lead of wheat. Both feed grains opened mixed, and then worked lower.

March oats near the close was off the daily limit of 6 cents from the previous close.

Cash wheat kept abreast of the futures advance, a car of No. 1 red selling for $2.80 and a car of No. 1 hard selling at $2.75 a bushel.

Profit cashing in all pits became more pronounced toward the close.

At the finish wheat had lost all the day's advance, and closed 1 cent higher to 1 1/2 cents lower than previous finish.

March $2.72 1/2. Corn was 5 to 6 1/2 cents lower, March $1.65 to $1.64 1/2. Oats were 2 to 3 cents lower, March 88c to 87 1/2c. Barley was 1 1/2 to 10 cents higher, March $1.47.

We Go to the Wedding of Weegee,
The Poor Man's Rembrandt—

Nervous Bridegroom Cuts Wife's Head Off

Arthur (Weegee) Fellig, whose camera work includes a book called "Weegee's People," sights on his bride for a picture entitled "Weegee's Wife." But Weegee's wedding must have shaken his famed technique; for the picture he got, see photo at right.

Story by MARC J. PARSONS

and EDWARD JERRY

NEA Staff Correspondents

NEW YORK (NEA)—An unkempt little man with a cigar married a widow from Boston at City Hall the other day and it drew more photographers than a Park Avenue society wedding.

The bridegroom was Weegee, fabulous Manhattan camera character. Poets call Weegee a poet; sociologists claim him for their own; picture men regard him with reverence as a master craftsman; his books "Weegee's People" and "Naked City" have made his pictures famous far beyond the city streets whose violence and pathos his lens has captured.

Weegee, born Arthur Fellig, introduced the bride this way: "A

For this "Poor Man's Rembrandt" wedding picture, Weegee and his bride stuck their heads through a tin-type photographer's backdrop in a penny arcade.

Two-time casualty at Weegee's wedding was Mrs. Weegee's wedding chapeau. First he cut it off when he took her picture (top of page), then he knocked it off (above) when photographers shouted "Now for the kisses." Explained the obliging Weegee to his bride: "These guys got to make a living."

Brooklyn girl at heart—even if she does come from Boston. She's a sweet girl and I like her for herself. Besides, she's lousy with money." Her name, Mrs. Margaret Atwood.

Weegee said he met her while autographing books. He looked her over and said: "Are you single, footloose and free, Babe? I'm going to take you under my wing."
Mrs. Atwood replied: "Photo-

CREOMULSION
for Coughs, Chest Colds, Bronchitis

As a tribute to the luxury of his "swell apartment uptown," Wee-gee has removed his shoes while his bride lights his cigar. "I can afford it," said Weegee, who up to this point had done most of his relaxing in the back of his rattletrap car or on a cot nestled among cameras, enlargers, and tripods.

Mrs. Weegee, who smiled for every other picture, looked glum for this one because Weegee was demonstrating how he's going to spend his honeymoon. "I'm gonna spend the time cutting film," he said. The cigar he's wearing here halted wedding ceremony while the deputy city clerk asked him to remove it.

Before heading for marriage chapel at City Hall, Weegee took a farewell nap in the cluttered downtown room that was his parlor, bedroom, bath—and darkroom. As he does here, he usually slept with his shoes on. "We give up the dump," he said.

Weegee was taking in the photo at upper left. As nervous as any other bridegroom, Weegee cut off the top of his wife's head.

Wedding breakfast at Chinat-town restaurant included Moo

Somebody asked Weegee if he would spruce up now he was married. Years of sleeping in the back of his rattletrap car in his clothing have made Weegee a clothier's nightmare. He once put it: "Cleanliness is next to godliness—I'm an atheist."

"We give up the dump," said Weegee. He referred to the room near police headquarters which for years has been his combination dark room and bedroom. "We got a swell apartment uptown. Cost me plenty of chips. But I can afford it. I'm going on a radio program. Now the Poor Man's Rembrandt is gonna be the Poor Man's Oscar Levant."

Weegee got famous shooting bowery bums, drunks in gutters, stiffs lying in their blood after murders, faces of people watching a fire, a raid or an accident. He got his start taking passport photos, kids on a pony and working in the darkroom for Acme News-pictures. For years he slept in an Acme darkroom. It was against the rules but rules weren't made for Weegee.

HOW WEEGEE WAS NAMED

Weegee claims his name is a corruption of Goula, the spirit which is supposed to trot a little table across an alphabetical board to spell out spirit messages. He regards it as a tribute to his power to foresee hot pictures.

The truth is he got the name while working as a darkroom man, developing photographic plates and prints. Since time immemorial, the boys who dry prints have been known as "squeezies." To needle Weegee, the boys tacked their name onto him—but like practically everything else he ever owned, the name got worn down.

He was a brilliant photographic printer. He developed prints in planes, freight cars, automobiles and once in a careening ambulance with his editor Harold Blumenfeld, up front in a white jacket cranking a siren.

Once Bob Dorman, his boss at Acme, heard Weegee had cleaned up $500 on a horse and made him blow the roll on an entirely new outfit of clothing—from underwear out. Weegee walked miserably out of the store looking like a fashion plate. Next day his clothes looked like he'd slept in them. He had.

He was subject to spells of demure during which he would de-

After Chinatown breakfast, Weegee carried his wife over the threshold of his $200-a-month uptown apartment. His bachelor residence was a $17-a-month room behind police headquarters.

side to "make something" of himself. He'd devour two or three books a night or take up the violin. He'd serenade the cockroaches in empty offices, giving each bug a name. He claimed they were his only real friends.

An early flight into prose was published by NEA. It was a sordid heart-throbber about a violinist with only a quarter to his name.
Would he buy a hamburger for his hungry stomach or a violin string for his soul? Weegee had him buy the string and turn on the gas. There was no clamor for

With his new bride and an old camera on his lap, Weegee explains photography. "If I can't teach her how to take pictures, she can collect stamps," he said.

a repeat and Weegee turned to the camera to tell his stories.

One of his first photographic assignments was to cover a regatta at Montauk Point. He showed up at the office dripping wet after a three-hour train ride in. Acme's editors accepted his negatives and didn't ask him about his sudden clothing. But they were mystified.
He could have fallen off a yacht.
But how could he have stayed wet for three hours?

Days later they learned the answer. Weegee had fortified himself too strongly against the sea breeze and was afraid he would pass out before getting the pictures back to Acme. His yachting friends got him aboard the train and paid porters to douse him with ice water periodically all the way to New York.

Weegee was too unorthodox to last long as a syndicate photographer. He wanted to stand in Times Square and wait for a picture. This irked his bosses.

"The Poor Man's Rembrandt
don't wear no man's collar," boasts Weegee. "In fact, what the heck do you need a collar for anyway?"

And so Weegee wound up his wedding night in a shower of flashbulbs and lifted his bride across the threshold of their love-nest.

"Dis," said Weegee, "is the beginning of a new era for a genius."

NOW CAN BE BEATEN

The miseries of Pin-Worms have been known for centuries, and millions of victims have sought a way to deal with this pest that lives inside the human body.

Today, thanks to a special, medically recognized drug, a highly effective treatment has been made possible. This drug is the vital ingredient in P-W, the Pin-Worm tablets developed in the laboratories of Dr.
D. Jayne & Son.

The small, easy-to-take P-W tablets act in a special way to remove Pin-Worms. So don't suffer from the embarrassing rectal

The Doctor Says

Training Cerebral Palsy Children
By WILLIAM A. O'BRIEN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

Cerebral palsy children must be taught to use their muscles efficiently. Drugs which temporarily relax taut muscles enable children to derive greater benefit from training, but these remedies will not cure the condition.

Curare (intocostin) is used to relax muscles in cerebral palsy because of its deadening effect on the neuromuscular junction which is the connection between the nerve and muscle. South American Indians use curare on the tips of their hunting weapons to paralyze small animals and to make it easier to capture them. Although this substance is found in many plants throughout South America, the preparation which is used in medicine is a purified extract of only one.

Cerebral palsy results from failure of proper development before birth, brain injury during birth, or brain infection afterward. Under normal conditions, muscle contractions are braked by the brain and spinal cord to prevent them from being too strong. In cerebral palsy this control does not operate so that every muscle contraction is excessive.

Cerebral palsy, which includes all types of spastic paralysis, is the largest single cause of crippling of children in the United States. Although the number of cases is not accurately known it is estimated that there are nearly a quarter of a million. Most children with this condition are normal mentally and can be trained. Help Children Succeed

Physical therapy, occupational therapy, and speech training are used in training afflicted children. These children differ from poliomyelitis children, who once walked or used their arms properly, in that they have to be taught to perform all these movements from the beginning. Normal infants learn to walk by involuntary kicking and learn to speak by crying and making other sounds before they use words, but cerebral palsy children have to be taught to do everything.

Families with cerebral palsy children should help them to achieve success within the limits of their adaptability. They should not hamper them by pity, because most of them are normal except for muscle difficulties.

QUESTION: I understand that goiter can be treated with radioactive iodine or thiouracil. What do you recommend?
ANSWER: Thiouracil is used to control the goiter with the hope that operation will not be necessary. It must be used with great care to prevent complications. While radioactive iodine is limited in use to certain conditions, surgery is still the best treatment for patients.

Love Has Two Faces

By Irene Lonnen Ernhart

XXXIII
"YOU said to be modern about this divorce," Cassie told Mike, "and that's what I'm going to be. I wouldn't dream of letting Parker know about the baby. Do you think I'd want him back because he felt it was his duty?"
"But if you love the guy, everything's bound to work out all right in the end!" Mike said.
"No! No, I tell you!" Cassie said. Her voice rose with impatience. "Leni wants him, and they went to New York together, and—well—that's that," she shrugged.

"Leni!" Mike said contemptuously. "She doesn't really want him. And he couldn't want her. As a matter of fact, Cassie, I've had a sneaking suspicion all along that the guy is still nuts about you."
"Let's don't discuss it any more, Mike. I'm here to get a divorce, and I'm going through with it. He wanted it this way. I used to think, when we were first married, that he did love me, but somehow everything started going wrong between us."

"I'm not much of a psychologist, Cassie, but it's easy to see what happened. Parker knew you married him mostly because of—well—what he could do for you and the family. Oh—you were fond of him. I'll grant you that. And people do get married on a lot less affection than you felt for each other. When two people are young and healthy they can marry and fall in love afterward. But he had that feeling that you didn't love him—that he'd talked you into it. And he knew about me, too."

"Yes, I know it."
"And deep down it hurt him. Then when he lost the thing you married him for—the money—it put him on the defensive. He felt as though he'd failed you."
"But I told him, Mike, that it didn't matter."
"It mattered to him. Then those jobs he had were not the sort he was fitted for, and he hated them. And they didn't pay much either and he was used to a lot. It all grew into sort of a defense complex."
"Figuring all that out doesn't help much now, that I can see," Cassie said wearily.

It was 10 o'clock when Mike left her at the hotel. And at 9 the next morning he phoned and suggested breakfast together and a drive.
Reno was a different place with Mike around. The loneliness was dispelled as though by magic. The ache inside her was still there, the grievous past and the uncertain future, and the longing for Parker. But the days were filled with activity that left her little time for thought.

She and Mike ate Thanksgiving dinner together. And that was the day she saw the note in the New York column about Parker.
"Radio star Parker Hamilton is being seen in all the bright night spots. Rumor has it that Hamilton's wife is being Renotized to make way for his marriage to 'er sister, lovely Leni Fletcher, night club songbird."
Cassie read it through three times, torturing herself with it.

Long scrawled letters came from Mama. Sid had won the oratorical contest at school. Papa had a brand-new banjo with pearl inlays and a lot of silver trimmings. Parker had sent it to him from New York. And Sid had got a model airplane with a real motor in it.
Mortonville seemed very far away, as though it were on another planet. And so did the family. Leni and Parker seemed even more nebulous.

Leni's mocking face danced before her eyes. "I'm in love with Parker! And besides that—he's so sweet!"

MIKE insisted that she should go to a doctor. She came out of the doctor's office feeling happy and at the same time near to tears.
"It was right," she told Mike solemnly. She mustn't cry. Mike would hate it.
That was the day they went to a small gambling place and played roulette, just for the fun of it. Mike lost a lot of money and she won $20.
"That's the way it goes, baby. I always lose. I lose and you win!" His blue eyes, reckless and full of mirth, probed into hers.
"No, Mike. I think we both lose in the big game."
Only a week more and she'd get her decree.

Mike made her eat right. "You've got to take care of yourself," he told her gravely. She'd had the first really square meals since her stay in Reno, after Mike came.
He started in at breakfast time. "Drink your orange juice. Atta girl! Another piece of toast. Finish your egg." As though she were a child.
"What are you going to do?" he asked one day. "Go back to Mortonville to live?"
"I don't know," she answered. "Mama wants me home for Christmas. I haven't made up my mind what I'll do after that."

It was difficult to know. There'd be the necessity for finding a job. She wasn't asking alimony. And then there'd be three months off at least before the baby came, and probably a month afterward. She would have to find someone then to take care of the baby while she worked. But Mortonville was out. She never wanted to live there again.
"You'll be home for Christmas, though?" Mike said.
"Yes."
She looked at his profile, thoughtful and grave. She wished that she could feel for Mike the passion again, the love that had once seemed to fill her heart so completely.
But it was no use.

The Daily Washington Merry-go-Round

WASHINGTON, March 11 — John L. Lewis seemed to have a premonition as to what the supreme court had in store for him. Shortly before the court's session, the beetle-browed mine worker boss made a significant talk before a hush-hush dinner given to various senators and congressmen by Congressman Brewster, Massachusetts bluestocking tax lobbyist.
Forgetting certain well known tactics by which he put rival unions out of business and how he twice called a strike during the war, Lewis complained that the government was oppressive and urged his senatorial hearers to get back to "free enterprise."
Sen. Albert Hawkes of New Jersey, former president of the U. S. chamber of commerce, replied, tartly reminding Lewis that it was up to labor leaders to help save the American free enterprise system.

Wheeler Honored at Dinner
Allegedly the dinner was given in honor of ex-Democratic Senator Burt Wheeler of Montana, one of Lewis' most intimate friends. Lewis is the man who persuaded the Anaconda Copper Co. to support Wheeler when Burt was in danger of being defeated for the senate in 1928.
Most of those invited did not know Lewis was to attend and frankly were puzzled regarding their host's intentions. Staunch Republican host Brewster boasts that his ancestors landed with the Pilgrim Fathers from the Mayflower, and prides himself on being a son of the American Revolution. Asked about his dinner Brewster would not even admit that he had held one.

"If a man can't have a purely social dinner we've come to the end," he exploded. "If you want to pry into my affairs I can tell you where to go."
However, it was ascertained that guests at the hush-hush elk-meat dinner, apparently given as a sounding board for Lewis, included: Republican Senators Cain, Wash.; Ecton, Mont.; Cordon, Ore.; Butler, Neb.; Revercomb, W. Va.; Bridges, N. H.; Hawkes, N. J.; Democratic Senators Johnson, Colo., and Eastland of Miss.; Republican representatives Bradley, Mich.; Short, Mo.; Mundt, S. D.; plus President Robert Young of the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad and Ed Wheeler, son of the ex-senator.

Lewis Urges "Free Enterprise"
John L. was called on at the end of the dinner and took 15 minutes to appeal for a return to "free enterprise." There can be no free enterprise, he said, if the rights of labor are restricted.
"We have a good government in this country," Lewis intoned, "but if we want to keep it, a halter must not be put around the neck of labor. I will testify before congress soon in regard to this; not that it will do any good, but I want to put myself on record."
To illustrate his point about what he meant by good government, the mine labor leader told this story:
A Chinese leader came across a woman of his country who was weeping bitterly.
"Why weepest thou?" asked the leader.
The woman pointed to a fresh grave where the body of her husband, who had been killed, was buried. Then she pointed to another grave where her only son, also killed, lay.
"Well, why don't you leave here?" asked the leader. "Why do you want to stay in a country where you have suffered so much?"
The woman replied that she preferred to stay in a country where the government was "not oppressive."

In telling the story Lewis emphasized that this woman could endure every hardship, providing the government under which she lived was a just one.
Several others were called on to speak after Lewis had finished, including Senator Hawkes, who delivered a polished reply to the mine leader's comments.
"Mr. Lewis, you have expressed a desire to see the American system saved," declared the New Jersey senator. "Well, you and other leaders of labor are a major responsibility in this. You should conduct yourselves as labor leaders in a manner that is compatible with the interests of the people as a whole."
"With their new powers, labor leaders have the same responsibility as industrial leaders. It rests on their shoulders and if they don't carry it well, we will fail as a nation."
After this reminder, Hawkes added that he fully agreed with Lewis' call for a return to "free enterprise."

"We've got to get back to voluntary cooperation," he said. "That is the mainspring of American life. If we fail to get back, we cannot remain a free nation."
"No laws that we pass will solve all our problems, but certain laws are vitally necessary to restore freedom of action, in my opinion. However, I do not believe that any legislation passed in vindictiveness will help us."
Freshman Questions Senior Representative Jack Javits, a New York City Republican, is learning that freshmen congressmen should be seen and not heard—or at least that many older congressmen think so.
Last month Javits arose during the house debate on the urgent deficiency bill to ask Chairman John Taber of the house appropriations committee if the bill as recommended by his committee would provide funds for the OPA to continue rent control through June.
If the money is handled wisely, replied Taber, carelessly, there will be enough.
Javits took him at his word and voted for the bill, only to discover later that insufficient funds were provided in the bill, whereupon the young congressman took the unusual step of ap-

Officers Elected By VFW Post

The World War II Memorial Post No. 5741, Veterans of Foreign Wars, held its regular meeting at the armory Monday night. The main order of this meeting was that of the election of the officers for the ensuing year, 1947-48.
The officers elected were: Commander, William F. Brown; Senior Vice-Commander, Paul Alpert; Junior Vice-Commander, John Stacy; Quartermaster James McNeil; Post Advocate, William Bunn; Chaplain, Charles Faulkner; Post Surgeon, Dr. C. G. Stauffer; Trustees: three years, J. Reece; two years, James Blue; one year Russell Peck.
The installation of officers will be held on April 14.
The following volunteered as delegates to the state and district meeting to be held this year: E. E. Green, James McNeil, Abe Silverman, James Blue, Lynn Shelby, "Bob" Younger, William Fidler, William Bunn, Charles Faulkner and Leroy Scott.

Several matters of civic importance were discussed and it was decided that future action will be taken by the post.
The next meeting will be held March 24 at the armory.

Approve Pay For 'Milk Route'

JEFFERSON CITY, March 11—(P)—Paying $10 a day and expenses of the five county judges, who, with the state highway commission, are charged with administering the King "milk route" law was approved by a senate committee Monday.

The commission also would be permitted to pay certain administrative expenses under the house passed bill. The "milk route" law provides for state matching aid up to $750 a mile to help counties construct rural roads. It was passed last year.

Also approved was a senate bill to give members of the state highway patrol an additional $5 a month over the present $10 maximum for uniforms. Col. Hugh H. Waggoner, superintendent of the patrol, said higher postwar cost of uniforms makes the increase imperative.

The bill provides that no member of the force may be promoted to the next higher grade until he has served at least a year in his present rank. It sets a maximum starting age for troops at 32. Although there now is a statutory minimum of 24 years for new troopers there is no maximum.

Sues For Damages Over Accident

A damage suit was filed Monday in circuit court by James Hanson, Jr., 910 South Massachusetts avenue, against William L. Noel, Cecil C. Noel, Fines E. Noel, and James E. Noel, a co-partnership doing business as the Noel Bros. Trucking Co., asking $10,000 in one count and $350 damages in a second count.
The suit is a result of an accident on Grand avenue in the 1500 block, on the night of December 20, 1946. According to the suit Hanson was driving his 1939 coach which crashed into the rear of a truck belonging to Noel.
Hanson asks $10,000 in his first count, for injuries received and medical expenses made necessary due to the accident, and the second count for $350 was damages to his automobile.
William F. Brown is the attorney for the plaintiff.

NEW ORDERS
keep the telephone waiting list long

For every single hour of the working day last year we were able to offer telephone service to 289 people who had ordered it in the five states we serve.
And every hour 288 more persons ordered telephones!

That's why the telephone waiting list at the start of 1947—235,460 names long—is only a little shorter than a year ago.

But it isn't the same list it was a year back, by any means. Most names on it, by far, are new ones. That's because we connect telephones in proper turn just as fast as equipment becomes available in a particular part of town.

And the equipment we have—switchboards and cable and all the ranks of humming machinery in a telephone central office—is bearing up under an extra load much heavier than we engineered it
